Neither club has had much chance to shine in the postseason. Both in the same division, they're battling to stay alive against the Braves, Brewers, Cardinals, Cubs and Giants. The Pirates had a last-place record and had the most dismal losing month of any Major League team. They have the worst record in the National League and are tied for the worst record in the Major Leagues. The Dodgers, on the other hand, made the National League Championship Series and won the World Series. They're in a division with two teams vying for the second-best record in baseball. Plus, they're right in the middle of the Major League pack with 13,000 miles separating them from the best teams in the game. Yet here they are, in a World Series, and it's as close as the teams will come. In the wake of Game 6, the Pirates are trying to learn from their mistakes to stay alive. "We have a ton of respect for what they're doing up there," Pirates second baseman Jeff Karstens said. "To have such a long postseason run and a World Series run, it was great to see. But, there's a lot of work to do. "When we get in October, we're going to have to look forward and go out and do what we do, the same thing we've been doing the whole year. We want to do the
